

Itinerary for Symposium on Sustainability and Human Rights
Friday, November 22 (Loyola College Campus): AD 210

9am-10:00am Panel 3: Oral History Promoting Human Rights

- Dr. Doug Tewksbury, Fulbright Scholar, Digital Solidarity, Analog Mobilization: The Social Media Question for Social Justice Movements
- Dr. Steven High, History Dept. & Co-Chair of Concordia University's Oral History Centre, Oral History at the Crossroads: Life Stories of Survivors and the Displaced
- Ioana Radu, PhD Candidate, Concordia University, Therapeutic History and Cultural Rediscovery: a Cree approach to wellness and well-being

10:00am-11am Panel 4: Social Justice and Human Rights

- Atty. Carol Gray, Fulbright Scholar, Loyola College for Diversity and Sustainability, Egypt's Draft Protest Law: Regulations Eviscerating the Right
- Afra Jalibi, PhD Candidate, Concordia University, Syria's Grassroots & the Absence of the local voice of Syrians: Clarifying Misconceptions.
- Gabriela Polanco, University of Ottawa, A Culture of Peace? Inclusive Education in El Salvador
- Richard Lubin, Fulbright Scholar, University of Ottawa, Art for Social Change

11am-11:15: Break

11:15-12:00noon: Panel 5: Climate Change and Resource Management

- Adan Suazo, Loyola College for Diversity and Sustainability, Surrounded on all Sides: The Effects of Climate-Based Land Depletion on Third-Party Interventions
- Dr. David Secko, Concordia University Journalism Department, Citizen deliberations on our environment, health and human rights: The case of advanced lignocellulosic biofuels in Canada
- Victoria Hermann, Fulbright Scholar, Carleton University, Indigenous Civil Society Experience and International Climate Negotiations
- Dr. Peter Stoett, Concordia University, Political Science Department, Human Rights and Climate Change: Digging Below the Surface.

12:00 -1:00pm Lunch (everyone on their own for lunch)

1:00pm-2:30pm Walking Tour of Loyola College of Diversity and Sustainability
Guest speakers: Rosemarie Schade, Principal of Loyola College; Adan Suazo, Assistant to the Principal, Loyola College; Professor Robert Tittler, History Department; and Jackie Martin, City Farm School Coordinator.

3:30-5:00pm Visit the Culti-Vert (Green Roof) project on the roof of the Palais de Congres
Speaker: Sebastion Martinez, Miel Montreal, Urban Bee-Keeping

